Online bankers should stay alert to phishing scams

Online bankers are reminded to watch out for a phishing scam targeting Bank of America customers. Customers may receive an e-mail stating that the e-mail address on file with the bank has been changed. It then asks them to log into their account by clicking on a link to sign into "Online Banking". When the link is clicked, the legitimate Bank of America site opens on the background. On the foreground, the phish site pops up. This is an attempt to collect Bank Of America username/password, ATM card information. Please go to: http://www.antiphishing.org/phishing\_archive/04-19-05\_BOA/04-19-05\_BOA.html to see examples of this scam. If you believe you have received this email, notify your bank and the authorities immediately.

Safety reminder for Warner Barracks residents

Families living on post are reminded that entry doors to housing buildings must be locked at all times. In addition, building coordinators need to make certain that all exterior doors to their building are closed and locked and that all families have keys for these doors. Remember all cars need to be registered. If you notice an unregistered car that has been parked in your housing area notify the Military Police immediately at CIV:0951-300-8700.

Garrison Change of Command

Lt. Col. Gary Rosenberg assumed command of US Army Garrison Bamberg on June 27. LTC Mark Gatto, the out-going commander, is headed to an assignment at the Pentagon.

Streets: When no bicycle path is available, then bicycle riders will ride on the right side of the right lane of traffic. Side walks may not be used by riders, except by children up to the age of 8 years who are required to ride on the side walk. Children 8 to 10 years have the choice to either ride on the side walk or on the street. Parents must advise their children what they need to do.

One Way Streets: Just like motor vehicles, bicycle riders may ride down one way streets only in the direction indicated by the one way street sign. However, riders may go in both directions when posted traffic signs allow it.

Passengers: Generally, passengers are not allowed on bicycles. Children up to 7 years may be "transported" on bicycles when an approved child seat or child trailer is used.

Pedestrian Zones: Bicyclists must push their bikes, except when posted signs explicitly allow bicycle riding. (next page)

Heat savvy can save lives

By Lori Yerdon, U.S. Army Combat Readiness Center

As hot weather poses potential risk to Soldiers and Family members alike, individuals need to realize that heat injury prevention is not only a command and leadership responsibility, but a personal one too.

Heat injuries are avoidable yet can affect anyone. Individuals not use to hot weather, especially when it's combined with high humidity, are particularly susceptible. Young children, individuals with a long-term illness, and Soldiers that work in enclosed environments such as aircraft cockpits or vehicle interiors specially run the risk of becoming heat casualties. The use of supplements may also increase the chance dehydration.

"Leaders and Soldiers must do more than just have water available," said Col. John Campbell, U.S. Army Combat Readiness Center command surgeon. "Using composite risk management to assess and mitigate the potential health effects Soldiers might suffer during hot weather is critical."

According to the Army's Office of the Surgeon, 220 heat stroke cases were documented in 2006; of those, 57 Soldiers were hospitalized, 163 were outpatients, and two died. The injuries happened both in garrison and operational environments, and occurred during physical fitness training and testing, training exercises, and other activities including recreational exertion and non-exertion activities.

The best defense against a heat-related incident is prevention. Before engaging in an outdoor activity or mission in the heat, the identification and assessment of potential hazards, such as a high heat category or the physical exertion level of the activity, can reduce an individual's chance of becoming a victim of heatstroke, heat exhaustion or heat cramps.

By developing and implementing controls, leaders reduce the chance of a Soldier in their formation succumbing to a heat injury. Having sufficient hydration sources and providing rest cycles as needed are some of the measures that leaders can take.

Applying similar control measures when off duty can also protect Family members. Drinking more fluids, avoiding alcohol or drinks full of sugar or caffeine and staying indoors when possible are several ways to beat the heat. Additionally, wearing a wide-brimmed hat, sunglasses and putting on sunscreen of SPF 15 or higher, diminishes the possibility of a heat-related incident. "Soldiers have a responsibility to look out for each other and speak up when a comrade is in trouble," added Campbell. "Someone always knows when a Soldier isn't at peak performance level; buddies should make leaders aware of these situations to thwart a possible heat injury."

For more information on heat injury prevention visit http://chppm-www.apgea.army.mil/heat/#\_H1A and for more information on the 101 Critical Days of Summer safety campaign visit <https://crc.army.mil>.

PT Day kicks off series of family support events

Over 120 family members from the 173d Airborne Brigade Combat Team got a taste of the physical training that their Soldiers experience during a Family PT Day and mock PT test at the Freedom Fitness Facility on Fri. June 22. Participants registered with Operation Walk 4 Freedom were given 25 bonus miles for competing in the events that day. Planners hope this will be the first in a series of monthly events and activities for families of the deployed 173d Airborne Brigade.

Caterpillar concern

Last winter's warm temperatures have resulted in an increased number of insects this summer. Among the nuisances making the news in Bamberg are the larvae of the Oak Processionary moth. The caterpillar's hair contains a toxin which causes skin irritations. Hairs can readily break off and become airborne and can easily come in contact with exposed skin or be inhaled, causing respiratory irritation. Symptoms should subside after three to six days. In rare cases severe allergic reactions may occur. Residents should be aware that nests have been found in Oak trees on Warner Barracks – particularly around Dog Park. If you see a nest or a line of caterpillars call the Work Order Section at DSN:469-5000.

To avoid caterpillar dermatitis follow these simple rules:

Don't

- touch the caterpillars
- play/picnic/walk under oak trees
- wear short sleeved clothing in the woods or walk in the underbrush

Do

- shower ASAP if you come in contact with hair
- wash clothing after being near infested area
- consult a doctor in case of severe exposure

Child supervision policy reminder

Never leave your child in a car unattended. Leaving children alone within a car is a neglectful action and considered a form of child abuse and is in violation of the USAG Bamberg Command Child supervision policy. This includes leaving a child in the car when paying for gasoline at the shoppette or to pick up your mail at the CMR. To read the full policy go to the Bamberg homepage at <http://www.bamberg.army.mil/policies/06-22.doc> and stay informed!

Celebrate Independence Day at Friendship Park. Jumpy castles, paintball, car show, live music and much, much more! The fun starts at 4 p.m. with fireworks at 10:15 p.m.

Health and Fitness

Easy access to Medical Evaluation

Board information

By Jerry Harben, US Army MEDCOM Public Affairs Office

Injured soldiers whose military futures are being considered by Medical Evaluation Boards will soon have a means to track the process and ensure accuracy of relevant information through the MyMEB page on Army Knowledge Online (AKO), the Army's Internet information network. This site went live June 15.

Medical Evaluation Boards (MEB) are conducted at medical treatment facilities to determine if injured soldiers meet medical retention standards set in Army Regulation 40-501. MEBs differ from Physical Evaluation Boards (PEB), which are conducted for the Army by Human Resources Command to determine if Soldiers can continue to serve and, if they cannot, to what disability benefits the soldiers are entitled.

"This will provide soldiers with an easy tool to view the progress of their own boards," said Michael P. Griffin, deputy director of U.S. Army Medical Command's patient administration division.

MyMEB can be reached online at www.us.army.mil/suite/page/417118 using a soldier's AKO user identity and password. Individual board information will be available only with matching social security number.

Data is automatically downloaded onto the site from the Medical Evaluation Board Internal Tracking Tool (MEBITT) database. A soldier can verify dates of physical exams and consults, or when reports and appeals have been initiated or approved. Down the left side of the screen are information links to explain the MEB process and terminology.

If a Soldier finds something inaccurate or questionable in the information, he or she should call it to the attention of the assigned Physician Evaluation Board Liaison Officer (PEBLO), who is listed at top right on the screen.

MyMEB was developed by medical, information management and administrative personnel to address a perceived need for soldiers to know more about the MEB process and how it affects them. A focus group of injured soldiers at Walter Reed Army Medical Center helped evaluate and fine tune the site.

New video resources are available to children and youth of deployed parents.

"Military Youth Coping With Separation: When Family Members Deploy" is a half-hour video of teenagers discussing their feelings and how they cope with issues that arise when a parent is deployed. This is available for viewing at the Army's behavioral health web site in the children section, www.behavioralhealth.army.mil/ and on the website of the American Academy of Pediatrics at <http://www.aap.org/sections/unifserv/deployment/ysp-resources.htm>.

"Mr. Poe and Friends Discuss Family Reunion After Deployment" uses cartoon characters to address deployment issues affecting children ages 6 to 11. Both of the videos will also be available for viewing or download by the end of June 2007.

"Talk, Listen and Connect: Helping Families Cope With Military Deployment" features the Sesame Street character Elmo dealing with the prolonged absence of his father. It is suitable for ages 3 to 5, and is available from Sesame Street Workshop at www.sesameworkshop.org/tlc.

The videos will be available on DVDs for anyone who cannot download large files from the Web. Watch the websites for information on how to get them.

At present, at least 700,000 children in the United States have at least one parent deployed for military duty, according to the American Psychological Association February 2007 report.

The American Academy of Pediatrics states that children's reactions to a parent being deployed may include anger, sadness, fear, confusion, and feelings of abandonment, loss, anxiety, and depression. These reactions can lead to significant problems such as school absenteeism and failure, social isolation, family emotional abuse and violence, psychosomatic medical complaints and depression.

It's tick time!

Tick season is in full swing. Outdoor enthusiasts should be advised, ticks in Germany can carry the bacteria that causes Lyme Disease for us and our pets. Four cases were treated in Bamberg in 2005. To reduce the chances of being bit, avoid areas with overgrown brush, unmowed yards and fields. Wear insect repellent with DEET and lightweight long sleeve shirts and pants tucked in at wrists and ankles. Wear light colored clothing to make it easier to see ticks and perform "tick checks" on children and pets when returning from wooded areas. For more information visit the U.S. Army Center for Health Promotion and Preventive Medicine web site at www.chppm.com.

Drunk driving...Over the limit. Under arrest.

In the US, July 4th is the second deadliest holiday of the year, behind New Years, due to impaired driving. Don't be a statistic this fourth of July, remember:

- Vehicle accidents are the number 1 killer of soldiers.
- Drivers 18 to 24 have the highest risk of being involved in a fatal accident, 4 times higher than any other age group.
- Intoxicated drivers are 15 times more likely to be involved in a crash and to be fatally injured.
- 48% of all traffic fatalities involve alcohol intoxication or impairment.

So if you plan on using alcohol, plan on using a designated driver also. If you are impaired you should call a taxi, in Bamberg call 0951-15015 or 0951-34545, take bus number 1 out of gate 3, or call a sober friend. If you see your friends taking unnecessary risks, step up, step in, take control and take the keys. Never drink and drive.

Outside the Gate

Travel advice

By Nicole Karsch-Meibom

The weekend of June 29 is one of the first waves of summer traffic on German autobahns. With all states eventually having summer breaks, weekends throughout July and the first half of August are likely to see major traffic on all German highways.

Before you go, consider the following tips:

- Have your car inspected - check brakes, tires, fluids, gasoline, lights, battery, and wipers.
- Know your route and, if possible an alternative route, in case of major traffic jam.
- Pack enough drinking water and snacks for the ride.
- Share trip information with friends or family so that people know where and when you are expected.
- Get plenty of rest before you leave.

While on the road...

- Leave early to give yourself plenty of time for the drive. Don't speed!
- Make sure everyone wears seat belts at all times.
- Children should ride in the back seat. Children younger than 6 or under 60 lbs. should ride in an approved car seat appropriate for their height and weight.
- Avoid taking medications that make you drowsy while you drive.
- Never drink and drive!

As seen in the NEWS ...

News summaries from June 29 through July 5

Bamberg Basketball Team wins National Championship

After winning the third game in the "Best of Five" series, the Bamberg based "Brose Baskets" finally made it to the top. The team of coach Dirk Bauer defeated the "Artland Dragons" from Quakenbrueck by 64 to 63. The Bamberg fans, or "Freak City", watched the game at an open air screen at Maxplatz downtown and cheered enthusiastically.

Jung Escapes Attack

Germany's Minister of Defense, Franz Josef Jung, who is on a two and a half week visit to Afghanistan, has apparently narrowly escaped an attack. It was reported that Jung's delegation was warned of a possible attack just after the minister had paid a visit to Afghan President Hamid Karzai in Kabul on June 6. A tip-off was received that the minister was to be attacked on the road while traveling from the president's palace to the airport and the German army had then split up the group to travel in armored cars. Criticism of the international troops operations against the radical Taliban in Afghanistan is growing as increasing numbers of civilians are being killed. President Karsai said that in the last ten days more than 90 civilians have been killed and he announced that foreign troops are now only permitted to act after having cleared their action with the Afghan government.

Dangerous Bird-Flu Virus Confirmed in Nuremburg

At least three water birds found dead in the Bavarian city of Nuremberg were infected with a strain of bird flu that can be lethal to humans, health officials said Sunday. Local authorities established a four-kilometer exclusion zone around two lakes where eight wild swans, geese and ducks died in the past six days. Veterinary experts at the Friedrich Loeffler Institute, the government's top veterinary laboratory on the island of Riems in the north of Germany, determined that two swans and a wild duck had contracted the H5N1 bird flu strain. In the meantime, officials ordered that all poultry farmers in the exclusion zone keep their animals indoors. Pet owners were warned not to let their dogs or cats roam free in the affected area.
